Telangana's robust policies and abundant resources position it as a prime hub for renewable energy and electric vehicle market growth.

Telangana state holds significant market potential in the renewable energy and electric vehicle sectors. With its proactive government policies and incentives, Telangana has emerged as a leader in solar and wind energy production. The state's abundant sunlight and wind resources provide a strong foundation for continued growth in renewable energy.

The state aims to increase its renewable energy capacity to over 8 GW by 2030, driven by policies promoting solar parks, rooftop solar installations, and wind energy projects.

“Telangana's EV policy aims to attract investments worth ₹30,000 crores (approximately $4 billion) and create 120,000 jobs by 2030.”
